

AUSTRALIAN ANTARTIC DIVISION

Expeditioner Clothing Store

The Station and Field Operations Team is responsible for issuing expeditioners with cold weather clothing and PPE prior to their stay in Antarctica. Our team procures the clothing and runs the day to day operations of the Expeditioner Clothing Store.

Australian Government

Department of Agriculture, Water and the Environment
Australian Antarctic Division

AUSTRALIAN
ANTARTIC
PROGRAM

How do I receive my kit?

- If you are employed by another agency, you will need to make an appointment by contacting the clothing store.
- If you are an AAD expeditioner your kitting appointment will be arranged for you by expeditioner training.
- You will receive an email from the clothing store confirming your kitting appointment, information about the kitting process will be included in this email.
- Prior to your appointment, ensure that you complete your clothing sizes, including height and weight in your clothing profile in AAO
- If you need to exchange an item, or something is missing, email the clothing store and organise an appointment.
- Once you are satisfied your kit is fit for purpose, you must go into AAO to confirm the receipt of your kit.

What do I do if I have any questions or concerns about my kit?

Please contact your project lead or line manager.

Frequently asked questions

A list of frequently asked questions can be found in the 'important reading' list on the following web page antarctica.gov.au/antarctic-operations/predeparture

How to reach us

Phone +61 3 6232 3372
during business hours

Email kitting@aad.gov.au

Location Hannam Building
203 Channel Highway
Kingston Tasmania

Bookings will be confirmed by email to your nominated email address in the AAO system. The clothing store can be accessed by appointment only.

