

PANCAKE ICE

Pancake ice is pieces of new ice usually approximately circular, about 30cm to 3m across, and with raised rims due to the pieces striking against each other. It is formed through the freezing together of grease ice or the breaking up of nilas.